DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, 8, 10 and 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tapio et al. (U.S. Patent 6,129,481).

Tapio et al. discloses a control system for a screeding machine including a grade setting device, vibrating member and support (Figure 5, for example). There is a control (258, for example) operable to automatically lower the vibrating member into engagement after the grade setting device is lowered to the desired grade level (see column 1, lines 26-41 and column 12, lines 11-53). The laser beam elevation control system is an activating device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tapio et al., as applied above, and further in view of Dörr et al. (U.S. Patent 4,759,657).

Art Unit: 3671

Dörr et al. teaches using a timing device with a screeding machine in order to avoid leveling defects. For this purpose, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used a timing system with Tapio et al.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11-14 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed April 22, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Arguments that Tapio et al. does not meet the originally presented claim limitations are not understood, since Tapio et al. specifically incorporates U.S. Patent 4,930,935 which, as discussed by Tapio et al. and known by applicant since the '935 patent is to one of the present inventors, includes the control as claimed.

The additional limitations regarding the timing device has necessitated the new rejection.
